

Illustration: Scientists have grown plants that can glow in the dark.

Explore

'Sunflowers' by Vincent van Gogh is one of the most famous paintings in the world. Why not do your own piece of art inspired by plants? Find a plant in your house or an image online. Do a piece of art inspired by your chosen plant and using a medium of your choice.

Investigate

Investigate the different parts of a flowering plant, such as the stamen, anther and stigma. Use the Internet and reference books to find out where these are located. Then, label the Parts of a Flower Worksheet in the pack to show where each part is.

Write

What other things could plants be able to do in the future? Use your imagination to come up with a plant that has an extraordinary power. Is it able to move like an animal? Can it speak?

Draw a sketch of this imaginary plant and jot down some key points about it around your drawing.

Then, write a description remembering to make your language as exciting as possible so the reader will want to find out more.