

Method of Identification Currently Being Used in Some of Our Schools

Method One

A member of the school staff presents a special diet child to Nancy's Cookhouse staff at point of service. School staff introduce the child to Nancy's Cookhouse staff using the child's name. Nancy's Cookhouse staff finds the appropriate dinner for the child using the information provided by the school. School staff member waits until the meal has been given to the child then supervises the child to make sure that the child eats their meal and does not share anyone else's food.

This is the most risk averse method and demonstrates that both the school and Nancy's Cookhouse have done as much as they can to keep the child safe.
